Korobochka (コロボ) @cirnosad

Feb 16, 2023 · 13 tweets · cirnosad/status/1626193454224252928

I would be proud to call Lukashenko my leader.
Everyone wants to speak to him right now.
He's balanced everything perfectly and listened to all his intelligent advisors.

A preview of what an all-Russian government would look like. With Russia's power it will conquer the planet.

Image

On the clotshot? He mocked them all. He shat on the WHO and made fun of the memedemic.

https://www.youtube.com/embed/8cNCIBxzfA8

On Syria/Assad. He took a consistent and excellent position. He completely mocked the soy media and their uprising narrative earlier than anyone else.

162K views · 1.1K reactions | Lukashenko on Bashar al-Assad | Lukash…
Lukashenko on Bashar al-Assad. President of Belarus loses his patience with a BBC journalist (Russian-speaking) in 2014.

https://www.facebook.com/eurasiadaily.nz/videos/lukashenko-on-bashar-al-assad/159…

Image

Oh the filthy British plan to destroy Belarus using Polaish and Baltic agents, he outright destroyed the entire networks involved, thoroughly.

He didn't just sit in his presidential compound while NATO scum roamed the streets shouting filth slogans and destroying property. He armed himself with his AK74SU and joined his men in protecting the nation.

When the KGB (Belarus's intelligence agency, which is the same agency as the USSR, unbroken, unlike the oligarch-controlled FSB) detected the flight of a major NATO agent aiming to destroy Belarus, it intercepted the plane with MIG-29s OUTSIDE Belarus.
https://informnapalm.org/en/ryanair-flight-over-belarus-was-intercepted-by-a-mig-29/

Even when Putin's oligarchs helped NATO in their attempt to destroy Belarus, Lukashenko was wise enough not to break relations but instead strengthen them and make Russia more dependent on him.
https://www.euractiv.com/section/europe-s-east/news/friends-again-belarus-hands-32-detained-mercenaries-over-to-russia/

On manufacturing, Lukashenko recognises the importance of microelectronics and micromanages this extremely important sector.
Meanwhile, Russia depended on support from western obligations under the WTO and were burnt out of their work force.
https://eng.belta.by/president/view/belarusian-microelectronics-company-integral-urged-to-secure-major-breakthrough-153527-2022/

On the issue of privatisation, the issue that Putin's party sold the country over, Lukashenko understands that it's a foreign plot to control and destroy nations from within.
https://eng.belta.by/president/view/lukashenko-we-need-private-companies-we-dont-need-privatization-to-suit-foreign-charlatans-133628-2020/

On social issues and on the "dictator" meme, Luka does not disappoint either. He immediately shatters the sacred cow of the European Union when pressured.
https://www.reuters.com/article/us-belarus-dicator-idUSTRE8230T320120304

Image

Luka speaks from the heart, and acts from the minds of his great Russian advisors. He doesn't have to ask permission from 50 dual nationals who robbed his nation during the 90s as Putin does.
Belarus is a tiny landlocked nation.Imagine this kind of honest rule, over all of Russia

The biggest loss we could face because of this war is the undermining of Belarus' independent decision, which you make it fall into the mercy of the demons who control part of Russia and all of the west.

Instead I hope the reverse happens -- Belarus influencing Russia. /End

Image

*would

• • •